With the Doha Round of World Trade talks blocked, it now appears that negotiations about the long-term fate of the Food Aid Convention may be getting more serious. A new report signals that a radical overhaul may be on the way. More details.

Vanuatu Red Cross and IFRC launch first IDRL project in the Pacific

The first in-depth IDRL study in the Pacific was launched this month in Vanuatu. It will focus on mapping legal instruments relevant to international disaster response and on identifying gaps and areas of good practice. More details.

Declaration of Buenos Aires calls for regional tool drawing on IDRL Guidelines