Vietnam champions IDRL with ground-breaking new law

Vietnam's new law on disaster prevention and response has the potential to save thousands of lives by clearing the way for the rapid and effective delivery of international humanitarian aid.

More details

Peru: Drafting new protocols and procedures for international disaster assistance

A multi-sectorial governmental working group is contributing to new protocols and procedures that will further develop Peru's legal framework for international disaster assistance.

More details

Malawi: Toward a new disaster risk management law

Disaster management stakeholders gathered to discuss how to strengthen the country's legal preparedness for disasters at the workshop Disasters and Law in Malawi.

More details

ALSO IN THIS EDITION

> Indonesia workshop examines impact of legal preparedness for disaster response

Read article

> IDRL in Israel: interview with Chaim Rafalowski

Read article

> Facilitating international assistance in Costa Rica: Interview with Marco Vinicio Saborio

Read article

UPCOMING EVENTS

- IDRL national workshops: 21 and 28 September in Cuba; 1 October in Haiti; 1-4 October in Botswana; 9-10 October in Tonga; 24 October in Dominican Republic
- Haiti-Dominican Republic bi-national workshop, 8 November in Santo Domingo
- IFRC General Assembly workshop ‘Better laws, safer communities: the role of National Societies in the development and implementation of legislation for disaster risk reduction,’ 12-15 November in Sydney, Australia
- International course on law and legal protection in natural disasters, 3-7 December in San Remo, Italy